WEEKLY THOUGHTS

FEBRUARY 24, 2019

Greetings.

As you know, this is the time of year when the Annual Diocesan Appeal kicks off. We will begin the 2019 Appeal in March. As we prepare for this important appeal, I wanted to share with you some historical information from our parish's efforts the past decade.

In 2008, we received a refund of $375 and we received a refund of $71 in 2009. Every year since we have run a deficit. The total of those deficits from 2010-2017 is $133,359. (It appears that we will also be several thousand dollars short for the 2018 Appeal.) This amount has had to be paid from our operating funds. This is a large amount that could also have been used for other parish projects. Anytime we are short of our assessed goal, it must be made up out of our operating funds. If we go over our assessed goal, 100% of the overage is returned to the parish.

I want to encourage all parishioners to begin thinking about the Annual Appeal now and consider what you might be able to pledge. If you were able to make a pledge last year, I ask that you consider increasing your pledge. If you were unable to make a pledge last year, please consider making one this year. Any amount will help us reach our goal and it is an opportunity to participate not only in the ministry and mission of our parish home, but also that of the diocese.

Many ministries and programs are supported by our Annual Appeal. Below are some of the ways the priests of our diocese are supported by the ADA. On behalf of the priests of our diocese, I want to extend my personal thanks for your continued support and generosity. I know that each contribution you make to our parish and diocese is a sacrifice and it is greatly appreciated.

The Diocese pays 100% of the health care premiums for all active and retired priests. This expense is approximately $600,000 per year. These expenses are not incurred by our parish.

The ADA contributes $45,000 per year to the priests' pension fund. These are the priests who have dedicated their lives to the service of our diocese. Our retired priests are expected to provide for their own personal expenses including housing expenses. Parishes do match priest contributions to a 403B account, but are not asked to contribute directly to the pension fund. A note about priest retirement income:

our priests do qualify for Social Security. However, all priests in the diocese are required to pay both the employer's and employee's portion of the social security tax. Parishes are not asked to contribute to the priest's social security as is the case with other employees, thus making the pension a very important part of the priest's retirement planning.

The Annual Appeal also helps to support our seminarians' tuition, room and board. This was over $500,000 last year. We currently have 18 seminarians in our diocese. These are your future pastors.

I will continue sharing more information about the many and varied programs as well as the ministries supported by the ADA in the coming weeks. The above items are only one part of what is supported by the ADA.

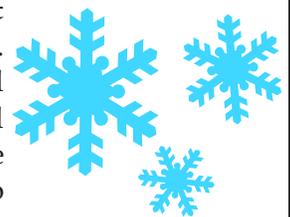

I am asking that as a parish we do our best to reverse the trend of the past decade with regard to the Annual Appeal. I want to thank you for your generous support of our parish and what I am confident will be a generous response to this year's Appeal. Again, thank you so much for your continued generosity to our parish.

Have a good week.

FR. Mark

Winter Weather Reminders

The cold temperatures & snowstorms of winter continue. Please remember that if school has a late start OR is cancelled due to winter conditions, the daily Mass for the parish is also cancelled. The policy is for the safety of those who should not be outside in potentially dangerous winter conditions. Secondly, it assists the city snow crews to efficiently clean the streets with minimal traffic. We do not usually cancel weekend Masses. However, please do not take chances getting to Mass on the weekend if you feel that the drive to Mass or the streets are unsafe. Safety comes first.

How to Love

I don't know if you have ever read Richard Carlson's 1997 book, Don't Sweat the Small Stuff (and it's all small stuff). It offers advice and examples as to how we can live a loving and a (more) peaceful life.

One of my favorite chapters gives a way to use patience rather than upset when someone else does an annoying thing. For instance, when a car swerves in front of you, instead of asking, "why in the heck did he or she do that????!!!!!!?" maybe we could ask the question, "what are they trying to teach me?" This becomes like a game in which everyone else is wise and you or I want to learn from them.

Such an insight changed my own perspective.

When a car goes through a very narrow opening behind a truck and careens into my lane with only several inches to spare, then, instead of leaning on the horn and unpacking some road-rage, I ask what the swerver could be teaching me. Could it be that I too am sometimes in a great big hurry and don't consider the other person? Honestly, this softens my attitude and lets me have some compassion.

I am not trying to sell copies of Carlson's books, though I do like this one. I am just pointing out how his generous writing soothed me.

Jesus, in Sunday's Gospel, suggests an even bigger change of attitude. His prose is a bit more jagged and maybe less consoling than Carlson's, but ultimately deeper.

Jesus says that you and I try to bargain in everything. If someone loves us, only then do we agree to love them in return. If they run their car over our flower-bed or nearly knock us out of the crosswalk, we become angry and we substitute bad feelings for loving ones. After all, who would be nice to an evil doer who is in the act of doing evil to you?

Jesus says:

Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you.

How can we love without any return? "Lend money and expect nothing back," Jesus says. If you get a reward for each thing you do you are just like the pagans.

But is it even possible to just love—and never to get our own empty tank filled back up? Isn't that a way to burn-out?

Jesus' answer is found in a wonderful clue toward the bottom half of Sunday's Gospel. There he says, if we can give without guile, we will be like "children of the Most High," who is always kind to the ungrateful and the wicked!

Alright, is God "always kind"? Yes. All his "needs" are already filled. God's love does not demand reward. It overflows to us no matter what we do.

If we do not reject this, if we experience it—in the sacraments, say, or in prayer, or in another person—and if we let it in, then maybe our tanks will be pre-filled. God's love will flow out to others through us.

Fill up!

FAITH QUESTIONS

Question for Children: Jesus tells us to treat others as we would want others to treat us. How do you treat others as you want to be treated?

Question for Youth: How do you follow Jesus' teaching to "bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you?"

Question for Adults: Jesus says, "Give, and gifts will be given to you." When have you experienced your generosity coming back to you?

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Vincent de Paul, Priest, c. 1580-1660

Vincent was born at Pouy, France, in 1581, the third of six children. His parents, who were poor farmers, recognized his potential and were determined to give him a good education. He was educated at the college at Dax and at the University of Toulouse and was then ordained at the early age of twenty.

While not a lot is known of this period in his life, we do know that in 1605, while on a trip to Marseilles, Vincent was captured by pirates and sold into slavery in North Africa. Following his escape from Tunisia in 1607, he became chaplain to the Queen of France and tutor to the children of the Count de Joigny.

At this point in his life, by his own telling, Vincent's ambition was little more than to have a comfortable life. Certainly, there was no sign of the great things which Vincent was to accomplish in later years. Called upon to hear the deathbed confession of a peasant in 1617, however, he became aware of the spiritual needs of the poor people of France. Vincent began preaching to the poor and soon left the house of his patron to become pastor of a church. There he instructed the people in the necessity for repentance and converted many from a scandalous lifestyle.

The following years brought wide renown to Vincent de Paul. He became noted for his work among the poor, and was a chaplain to galley slaves waiting to be shipped abroad. In 1625, with the help of his former patron, the Count de Joigny, Vincent founded the Congregation of the Missions (known today as the Vincentians), an order devoted to work among the peasants. In 1633, along with Saint Louise de Marillac, he founded the Sisters of Charity.

In his lifetime, Vincent de Paul established hospitals, orphanages, and seminaries; ransomed slaves in northern Africa; sent his priests abroad to preach missions; and organized far-flung relief among victims of war. It is remarkable that one man, without the advantages of birth and fortune so necessary for success in those times, could achieve so much.

Saint Vincent de Paul suffered from ill health in his later years and died quietly sitting in his chair at the age of 80 on September 27, 1660 and his memorial is celebrated on the anniversary of his death. He was canonized by Pope Clement XII in 1737 and declared the patron of all charitable groups by Pope Leo XIII.

Vincent's message today: Even though he was ordained a priest at an early age, it took an awakening event for Vincent to recognize what God was calling him to do. The same is true for many of us, no matter what age we are. God may be asking us to do something as simple as praying for our neighbor. On the other hand, God may be asking us to do much more.

✠ God calls each one of us to be of service, in ways both great and small. What is it that you are being called to do?
