John 8:12

Join us in person or WORSHIP WITH US ONLINE

Please join us in praying more than ever for Americans, Afghans, our military and our leaders.

Almighty Father,
No one is ever far from your loving care.
Please watch over the people of Afghanistan,
our soldiers in the field, their families at home,
and please help those desperate to get out of harms way.
Bring them to safety and help us always to show kindness to the refugees, and to all in need.
Grant this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

BREAKFAST STARTS SEPT 7

Holy Trinity Catholic School is the ONLY school in Des Moines and 1 of only 18 in Iowa to be awarded “Model Professional Learning Community” status.

One of about 200 Schools and Districts in the US and Canada receive this honor. Holy Trinity was recently recognized by Solution Tree for its sustained success in raising student achievement. HT’s successful implementation of the Professional Learning Communities at Work® process was a major contributing factor in the improved achievement of its students.

PLCs are schools and districts in which educators recognize the key to improved learning for students is on-going, job-embedded learning for the adults who serve those students.

The three big ideas of a PLC call upon educators to:

1. Focus on learning.
2. Build a collaborative culture.
3. Create a results orientation.

Schools are recognized based on strict criteria, including demonstration of a commitment to PLC concepts, implementation of these concepts for at least three years, and clear evidence of improved student learning over that period. Once measurable results can be seen, the school must explain its practices, structures, and culture and submit its application for consideration by the PLC Review Committee. According to the Champions of PLC at Work®, educators in the schools and districts selected for this recognition have shown “a sustained commitment to helping all of their students achieve at high levels. They have been willing to alter the structure and culture of the organization to reflect their commitment. We applaud them and congratulate them for achieving this very significant milestone on the never-ending PLC journey.”

NOTES ON THE MASS SEP 5 2021

SPIRITUALITY OF THE READING

He Began to Teach Them

Jesus cures a deaf mute in this Sunday's reading and arouses astonishment in the crowd. (Gospel)

Christians tend to think that the healing of people was the main goal in Jesus' life. But after this Sunday there are only four more healings by Jesus in Mark's Gospel. Why? Earlier (in the first seven chapters) he had worked so many cures that people were mobbing him.

And that was the trouble. He was in danger of becoming famous as a mere wonder-worker. People were besieging him at every stop, thinking that he would solve all their problems—if only he gave their health back, or if only he took away their poverty and death, or if only—well, you name it. He was in danger of receiving Andy Warhol's illustrious "fifteen minutes of fame," and only that. But would fame really reveal God's love for the world and its peoples? Jesus thought not. In Mark, Jesus stopped the miracles and began a new phase of his mission.

He turned his face toward Jerusalem. And the cross. This change of direction will come next week. Suddenly and without warning Jesus will say to the disciples, "The Son of Man is to be handed over to men and they will kill him, and three days after his death the Son of Man will rise" (Mk 9:31). What more shocking statement could this supposedly invincible leader and healer make to them? How could death go together with healing?

A man and wife told me of the death of their tiny son, and how they had prayed so hard for his healing. Their prayers were not answered, they said. Yet somehow they discovered that God had been present throughout the dying, that God had been immersed in their son's life and death, and that this intimate presence was enough, more than enough. Their sorrow was immersed in love, and their son was safe in God's arms.

The point? A human person is made to be loved by God, not merely to have good health, riches or reputation. Real life consists of love exchanged with God and with others, not just in seeming to be a leader or a success. There is a greater good than these, a relationship with the divine being, a seeking of the one who is already close. Such an intimate relationship sends us out to help give God's love to the world. Miracle cures help for a while, but pretty soon the suffering world has to be faced in its full suffering self.

As a result, Jesus moves toward the events that will show God's solidarity with us in our anguish, our rejections, and in that famous event which each and every one of us will face sooner or later: death. Beyond cures, which are wonderful yet partial, God gives us companionship within each instant of our life. This Sunday at Mass, let us ask ourselves whether the intimate presence of God is part of what we desire in our own lives. Do we know that Christ is deeply involved with us? Do we let his love flow into us and through us to others, or must it just fight its way through?

Let's pray to hear, as the deaf man finally could.

John Foley, SJ

BRING THE GOSPEL HOME SEP 5 2021

READING I Isaiah 35:4-7a

PSALM 146:6-10

READING II James 2:1-5

GOSPEL Mark 7:31-37

Question for Children: How do you shun others whom you don't like?

Question for Youth: Who are the people in our world today who sometimes go unnoticed? What could you do to help them?

Question for Adults: In what ways do you discriminate in your heart against those whom you judge less than fully worthy?

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Gregory the Great, Pope and Doctor

Gregory began his career in civil service, and became known as a great leader. But he felt a higher calling and eventually left civil service to devote himself to God. Though he was one of the richest men in Rome, Gregory gave up his wealth to turn his house into a monastery under the patronage of St. Andrew. Shortly after, the pope ordained him as a deacon and sent him as ambassador to the emperor's court in Constantinople. Recalled to Rome in about 586, Gregory returned to his monastic life and was soon elected abbot of his community. In 590, a terrible plague hit Rome and among its victims was the pope. Gregory was immediately and unanimously elected pope, and consecrated pope on September 3, 590. As pope, Gregory introduced many reforms in the Church, and preached often on the scriptural readings of the day. Many of his homilies still exist.

Gregory's message today: Gregory would have preferred the quietude of the monastic life. Having given him many talents, God had other plans for Gregory. Sometimes we are called upon to minister in ways that are not ones which we would choose for ourselves. If this is what God is calling us to do, we must respond with our best efforts just as Gregory did.

Has God given you talents to be used in his service? Are you responding to God's call or do you ignore it?
